BOCA IMPROVEMENTS.

Excessive zeal is always dangerous, but it becomes doubly so, and even inconvenient, when embraced by municipal employees who fine a man for repairing the street before his own door. It may seem ridiculous and absurd to fine a man for filling up a 'pantano' in his own street, to allow the carts to enter his barraca, yet such cases have occurred, and so jealous are them municipal inspectors of the least infringement on their jurisdiction, that at least in the south end of the town we advise our readers to avoid for the present any street-mending on their own account. In that most delightful of all spots in the Plate, yclept the Boca, a fresh instance of Municipal zeal has occurred which reflects less upon our institutions than our 'reglamentos,' and awakens fears of the existence of a Boca Nihilism hostile to property and its rights.

In one of the most public Boca streets there stood a house, built, we suppose, in the Middle Age of Boca history, say 1865, and before the line of the street was marked out, before railway, or tram, or mole, or dykes were thought of: This house was rented this year to one of our great English firms as a species of Bonded warehouse, and for aught we know was filled from floor to the roof with Glycerine Dip and Martell's Brandy. The house, although ancient was well built, since in the last great storm, when the Exhibition building was blown to atoms, it suffered nothing; but the Municipal inspector had his eye on the place; the Boca must be improved, and as the walls projected over the street line, it was to be hoped that in the storm some portion of the edifice would give way, so that excuse might be afforded to have the whole concern removed. On the morning after the storm, when people's minds were prepared for the very worst, a band of active determined peones, hired to improve the Boca, came to the house in question and proceeded at once by order of superior authority; as they term it in Paraguay, to pull the place down, and they worked with such zeal that, before message could be sent to the lessees in town, the roof was off, all the deposited goods exposed, walls down, and in fact the place levelled before the tenants had time to get their goods out.

No Sheriff in Ireland ever turned a tenant out and levelled his cabin in such remarkably quick time as the Municipal Boca man in the case in question. As for appeal or redress, we cannot well see it, since the landlord did not commit the wrong, and as for the Municipality, the board, if brought into court, has the privilege of minors, and it would take at least 20 years to bring such a lawsuit to a head. Remedy in this country, in such a case, we believe there is none.

The Boca inspector could only be charged with excess of zeal in improving the Boca, which is an offence unknown to our statute law; the great mistake was on the part of the tenants who rented such premises. We live in an age of go-aheadism and if the angles at the base of an old wall overtopping a Boca side wall are equal, then the angles at the other side must be equal, for the walls cannot stand, and if the Municipal peones did not pull them down, still greater danger might have been incurred, and a general smash ensued at the next 'tormenta.' Still the tale is not without its moral, and let us close the chapter by admitting that it is only in the Plate such a barefaced attack on private property could be committed with impunity.

THE TRES ARROYOS BANDITTI.

THEIR LEADER KILLED.

The Chief of Camp Police, Mr Dantas, knew his man when he selected Sergeant Miranda, of the police of this city, to hunt down the three famous bandits Barrientos, Pizarro and Acosta, a trio who, for a long time past, have kept the partidos of Azul, Tandil, Ayacucho, Lobería, Tapalque, Curumalan, Olavarria etc in a state of perennial terror.

Sergeant Miranda picked out several old Linesmen who are serving in the Azul police and started with them under his command about the middle of September. For two months the sergeant and his men were baffled by the banditti who moved about like Will o the Wisp, displaying strategical ability and a wonderful endurance that would do honour to a nobler cause than that of saving their ignoble skins. During this two months' chase from post to pillar, up hill and down dale, by day and by night, in fair weather and foul, Miranda and his men hardly left their saddles. They were several times thrown off the scent by false news: the bandits often rode 20 leagues in a night to escape.

At last a paisano gave Miranda certain information that the trio would sleep in Pizarro's 'rancho,' four leagues from Tres Arroyos, on the 16th inst. At 4 o'clock in the morning the Sergeant and three men, his whole force, rode cautiously up to the rancho, but the robbers saw them. Nevertheless Acosta, who is a noted coward, was seized and bound before he knew where he was. Pizarro was also secured with but slight trouble; but Pedro Barrientos, the leader, scorned the idea of surrender, and his answer was the contents of a blunderbuss fired at the Sergeant, who escaped the balls as if by a miracle. He and his three men then fired their revolvers simultaneously and Barrientos fell dead. Just as the volley was heard a younger brother of Barrientos, named Julio, rushed, stark naked, from the rancho, with a dagger in one hand and a blunderbuss in the other, jumped on his horse, a beautiful and strong chesnut, and went off like an arrow, followed by two of Miranda's men.

The chase over the dank pampas in the early morning had no witnesses by the wild denizens of the Desert. Away sped the robber's chesnut, a horse famous for his speed and called Santos Vega; although the soldiers were mounted on specially selected horses, to compete with the chesnut, the latter was far ahead. After a headlong ride of two leagues, the pursuers changed horses at an estancia, while the gallant chesnut still dashed ahead as when he had started. The latest particulars of this famous Dick Turpin ride across the pampa say that when last seen the soldiers had changed horses a second time, after a headlong gallop of four leagues, the brave chesnut still leading, but so tired that he could only keep eight squares in advance of his fresh pursuers. The rider still flourished his blunderbuss and dagger, as he rode despairingly, to escape the clutches of the avenging Law.

Sergeant Miranda, who richly deserves promotion for the great service he has rendered the South camps by breaking up this daring gang, served with great distinction in the Paraguayan war. A famous exploit of his was fighting and driving off, in Parana, over 20 police men who tried to arrest a soldier of his regiment for some petty offence; he received 19 wounds in the scuffle. General Luis Campos and Colonel Arias, who have known Miranda all his life, say he is the finest and bravest fellow they have ever known or heard off; he is 38 years of age, handsome and well-built. The three men who accompanied him have all been raised to the rank of sergeant, and it is expected that Miranda will be made an 'oficial' at once.

TUDOR, equal in quality and flavour to Teas sold at $30 m|c and $40 m|c lb. Parties who have once tried it take no other. SOLD EVERYWHERE.

GREAT SOUTHERN RAILWAY

BAHIA BLANCA EXTENSION.

To the Editor of the Standard

Sir

'To Bahia Blanca in 19 hours' says the Nacional of yesterday, and then goes into some flimsy calculation which merely tend to confirm a rumour published some time ago, in the same paper, relative to the route determined upon by the Great S. Railway Company for the proposed extension to Bahia Blanca.

According to that rumour the projected line is to be from Azul straight to Fortin Libertad (on the old frontier) and thence, as straight, over the Tierras Pillahuinco and La Ventana to Bahia Blanca, 363 kilometres.

It is utterly inconceivable that such a route could have been selected either by the Company or the Government, and I think that no sensible person can fail to characterise it as a deplorable and unpardonable error, nor hesitate to do so.

Instead of 'Bahia Blanca in 19 hours' by a line as the crow flies, over a sparsely populated comparatively barren country, a desert in fact, where it is not likely there will be any local traffic for years; why not make it 20 hours, and, by a slight detour, carry the railway to a point where traffic already exists, where it must increase almost in geometrical progression, being in the very centre of the Province of B. Aires, and a point of departure for future extension westward? I allude to Guamini, and the lake region.

From Azul by Olavarria and its colonies to Guamini and Belgrano (Carhue), thence between Puan and Carumalan, to Fuerte Argentino, which is at Paso de los Chilenos on the Sauce Chico, and from there v a Nueva Roma to Bahia Blanca. In other words, following the actual military telegraph line, roads and frontier ditch, 427 kilometres.

The advantages of this route, both to the Company and the Government, over the other one, (although a the expense of 60 kilometres) are obvious and unquestionable.

To the Company, because Guamini, Carhue (Belgrano), Puan etc. are garrison towns, offering per se a certain amount of traffic as each section is opened to it, and each from its very nature forming moreover a nucleus for settlers in their respective neighbourhoods on both sides the frontier ditch from Guamini southwards; while Guamini itself would become the entrepot for an extensive zone of territory draining the produce, for shipment at Bahia Blanca, of all the newly settled, and to be settled, lands of the west as far north as Italo, and to the north east as far as where the 3rd parallel bisects the 36th meridian.

The traffic for and from this zone is what may be termed the extra traffic obtainable, as all to the southward and eastward would fall as naturally to the line as if it were constructed by Fortin Libertad and Pillahuinco, while any little that might be lost here would gravitate to Tandil.

To the Government on strategic grounds alone the advantages are equally apparent, as it would place the Government in direct communication with all the Comandancias de Division, and the 'fortines' of the frontier ditch, consolidating that line of defence definitely, and enable it to concentrate troops and supplies at any moment and at any given point, forming thereby a base for future operations right up to the slopes of the Andes, or the sources of the Negro, Limay, and Nauquen, which it only indifferently serves at present.

I hope sincerely that the rumour which has induced me to trespass on your space and readers' attention may have no foundation; but, should it prove to be true, then I trust that all the landed proprietors in the districts I have named, such as Unzues, Leloirs, Casey, Tornquist etc. will bring their influence to bear without loss of time so as to save the country and the company from committing themselves to such a mistaken policy.

Anticipating my thanks for your publication of these lines on the ground that they treat of matters of public interest.

I remain

Yours truly

Shareholder.

ROSARIO.

(From our own Correspondent)

November 15.

Looking over the weekly list of letters published by the Post-office here, I was struck with the notable fact that just one-half were directed to Italians. This set me a thinking, and as nobody ought to think of thinking, unless he can benefit himself or others by the operation, I intend that the Standard readers shall know the result of my cogitations. As a little pebble thrown into a lake creates multitudinous and ever-expanding circles on the water, so one little idea may fructify and expand in the brain of an accomplished correspondent. Ahem!

The question of what is to be the physical standing of the future Argentine, ought surely to be a serious one to all who interest themselves in the progress of the human race. This is not a question relating solely to Argentines themselves, but one in which the whole world is interested, because the world's destinies would be very differently affected by a nation of fifty millions, say of a thoroughbred racer, and one of a mongrel race, such as we unfortunately see in the greater part of Latin America.

I am no Darwinite. I consider the theory of natural selection as all bosh. It never has existed, and never can or will. Unnatural selection, yes, because man has power and command over animals and selection will improve these. But he has no power over his own race. I do believe, however, in an aristocracy of blood, not in its limited but grander sense, of the superiority of races, not only in physique but in mental capacity. The former, indeed, may be perfect amongst the races inimical to civilization.

What is the ethnological condition of the Argentine Republic? The answer fortunately is, that it is very superior to every other Latin state of the American continent, but that is all that can be said. In two remote corners we have the Quichua and Guarani element predominating, a good deal of the vicious pampa Indian blood in the Litoral, but not much of the negro element. All this can be swamped within half a century by the infusion of purer blood. We have lamentable evidence that the Spanish Morisco blood has been totally incapable of improving the Indian races. Noble in itself, it became brutalized by contact with the indigenous races. Hence the absence of a civilizing communistic element from Mexico to Cape Horn, for it is well known that not a single aboriginal race or tribe from Labrador to the Tierra del Fuego has been susceptible to what is understood in the nineteenth century as civilization.

As a physiological fact, it is worthy of attention that the Indian blood in the northern part of this continent, in the United States and Canada, has never been able to taint that of the conquering race. Only amongst the French in Lower Canada we find, in some instances, a deterioration from the original type; while, on the other hand, as I have said, in all other parts of the New World the conquering race was degraded to a great extent to the aboriginal type.

The grand physical qualities of the various northern tribes, the Delawares, the Oneydas, Hucons, Wyandots, Senacas and Mohawks, have not prevented their dying out without ever having effected the slightest physiological or psychiological change in the conquering race; while the Comanches, Apaches and their many sub-tribes have swallowed up the Morisco-Gothic blood of Spain in Mexico. The Araucanian predominates in Chile, the Aymara, Charrna and Guichia in Peru and Bolivia, and the Guarani and negro in Brazil. It has been only the Gothic blood of Northern Spain that has partly held its own in the assimilation of the races.

In justice, however, it must be said that the conquerors of what is now the United States and Canada, brought their wives and children with them. There was not the same urgent necessity of intermixture with the aborigines as existed in North America and Mexico, where the humanizing effect of wives and children was absent in the military colonisation of the Spanish colonies. The historian Azara says—"Como los conquistadores no habian llevado mugéres de Europa, y teniendo necesidad de ellas, tomaron Indias, las unas en calidad de esposas las otras como concubinas. Algunos no se contentaron con una sola, y tomaron varias a la vez, pues sabemos que fuera de otros, el Gefe principal, D. Domingo Martinez de Iralor, tuvo hijos de siete Indias hermanas, como el mismo lo declara en su testamento.".

Thus the intermixture became general and the results disastrous to the progress and civilization of Latin America.

What will be the ethnological conditions of the future Argentine then? The Italian element will undoubtedly form the base, as the Anglo Saxon has formed the base of the North American colonies. Argentines consequently ought to feel a great interest in the people who will have the greater part in the formation of their future.

First, we cannot help congratulating ourselves that the Italians bring with them no Moorish or negro blood. Neither the Spanish Moor or the negro, in the most advantageous position, has been able to improve the physiological or mental condition of uncivilized tribes; on the contrary, they have been drawn down to the level of the latter. Secondly, the Italians, of all the Latin races, possess the most Gothic blood, as the prevalence of fair complexions, light hair and blue or grey eyes denote; and it is Gothic or Germanic blood that is essentially wanted to build up the future Argentine. The Moorish element, so prevalent in South America, produces daring, poetry, music, oratory; but, with this race, daring will ever be despotism, music and poetry effeminacy, and oratory demagogism. The Italians have proved themselves a race worthy of making a great nation, physically as well as mentally; and this proves the possession of a large stock of cosmopolitan blood, which, like that of the Anglo-Saxon, has been purified by the aspirations after liberty.

If we could only procure a slight admixture of the phlegmatic law abiding northern blood, the future Argentine nation would take precedence over every other Latin race.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The news by the Patagonia is a little later than that by the Maskelyne, but is not very important. The 'rapprochement' between Italy and Austria is the main topic in the London papers. England will soon be the only friend that France can call her own; but she is a tolerably powerful one.

It was yesterday fully admitted that the fire at the Plaza Constitucion could have been put out in five minutes had there been any water, or the most ordinary facilities for meeting such emergencies. We regret to hear that an officer of the 7th of the Line was badly burned. The men of his regiment and of the 8th worked like bricks to put out the flames. Several of them and many policemen were injured and burned. Mr Miguel Smith, the wholesale grocer, who had sent all his men and boys to assist at the fire, received all the injured men in his house and attended to them in every way in his power: his premises had a narrow escape; the wind, fortunately, kept the flames away from them.

Our colleagues have, very injudiciously, opened the 'caso sospechoso' season to which we have been accustomed annually since 1870. A man died in Calle Tucuman, and, because vomiting was part of his disease, the case is at once dubbed 'sospechoso'. A pain in the big toe is sufficient to startle some people. We all remember the startling 'sospechoso' case in Calle Mayo two years ago, when even the doctors couldn't draw the line between brandy and fever. The present case, Dr Camelino says, is one of poisoning.

Don Felipe Picot has written to President Roca from Bayonne, to say that an extraordinary tide of emigration to the Plate is rising in both the French and Spanish Pyrenees. This is glorious news. Not even our first cousin, the Italian, is a better immigrant than the burly Biscayan.

Colonel Latorre, ex-Dictator on the other side of the Jordan, was summoned to the Policia on Friday and warned by the Chief against doing anything in the 'regeneration' line for his beloved native land. The Colonel said that he had no intentions of the kind, as the task of redeeming, regenerating, and disenthralling poor B.O. was a Herculean job which could not be even thought of in such desperately hot weather as the present.

The corpse of a well-dressed man who had evidently been killed by a pistol shot was found the other day in Palermo Park, but the police are as yet uncertain whether the case is one of murder, suicide, or duel.

The examination season in schools and colleges is now in full swing. Amongst those who have passed a brilliant examination in Jurisprudence courses we see the names of our talented young friends Messrs Galbraith, Klappenbach, G O Farrell and Alfredo Fernandez. We congratulate them all, and expect to see them high on the Bench some day.

The arrest of three famous bandits in the South and the chase after a fourth, particulars of which we give in another column, would form a fair chapter in a sensation novel. The naked flying bandit on his 'parajero alazan,' recalls Ainsworth's Dick Turpin and that mare of mares Black Bess. It is not known yet whether the 'chesnut' managed to get away from his master's pursuers: he certainly made a brave gallop for it, it would be better for Justice if he was not such a flyer.

The Pampa still keeps pounding away at the expropriation of the Recoba Viejo. Down it will come. That's flat.

We read in our Mendoza exchanges that the gallant General Nelson, who is military Intendent of the Cuyo provinces, has settled down in Mendoza and purchased a beautiful quinta at San Vicente for 10,000 pats 'St. Vincent' is a very appropriate place for any one bearing the glorious name of Nelson to reside at. Did the gallant General make the selection purposely?

We call attention to several advertisements which have been published by the Committee of the British Cemetery; and especially to their earnest request that proprietors of ground should interview Mr O. H. Krabbe. It is plainly their duty, as it will also be found to be their interest, to render every assistance to the Committee.

A Rosario colleague refers poetically to a shower of stars there the other night. In Japan it rains stars every night: the stoutest umbrella wont keep them off, and they utterly ruin the Parisian pot-hats which Jeddo 'swells' have recently taken to wearing. We read that tall hats are now going out of fashion in Paris.

They are in very low spirits in Salta owing to the slow progress of the railway extension from Tucuman.

The San Felipe Theatre in Montevideo is to be raffled for. It is a tumble-down concern and would prove a white elephant to the winner.

Mining industry is going ahead in Cordoba. The Government has just granted a large concession of 25 square leagues of mineral territory to Mr Posadas, with important privileges in the way of exemption from taxation.

Just as the 'crudos Tucumanos' were sitting down to a late breakfast one day last week, a couple of thousand billions of locusts came into the town and breakfasted on everything green they could find. retiring when fully gorged.

All the Montevidean papers express much pleasure at the report that President Roca may probably go down there for the bathing season.

The Spaniards in Montevideo are collecting money for the purpose of buying the English out of Gibraltar, appa rently labouring under the illusion that John Bull will do anything for hard cash. We advise our Spanish friends not to spend their money foolishly; all the money in Spain would not compensate England for the loss of that bleak and barren rock.

We feel pleasure in saluting our new Montevidean colleague the Patria Uruguaya. Its first number contains a neat portrait of General Santos, who is, at least on paper, a good looking young man and by no means the ogre his political opponents describe him: his military foggery has a Prince Esterhazy look about it, and a deal to much fur for this tropical weather.

A Homœopathic Joke—Hahnemann, the founder of the homœopathic school, was consulted by a wealthy English lord. The doctor listened patiently to the patient. He took a small phial, opened it and held it under his lordship's nose. 'Smell! Well, you are cured.' The lord said in surprise, 'how much do I owe you?' 'A thousand francs,' was the reply. The lord immediately pulled out a bank-book and held it under the doctor's nose. 'Smell! Well, you are paid.'

The restaurants and large cafes in Berlin have lately rejected ordinary stoneware and China plates for those made of 'papier-maché.' The change seems to be pleasing to all concerned. Breakages are at an end, and the articles have so little intrinsic value thst the guests are at liberty to carry them away for the sake of their prettiness. None of this 'papier mache' ware has as yet come to the Plate, where it would be certain of a vast demand, first, because it is unbreakable, and next because it is pretty. As a general rule, even the very highest priced china and porcelain ware imported here is tawdry, vulgar and insufferably ugly.

The latest city improvement mooted is to remove the Central Station and run a grand Embankment down Paseo Julio to the Gas House, and thence to Palermo Park. This would be the most splendid boulevard in the world.

An official Bolsa on the site of the Women's Hospital in Calle Esmeralda is the latest thing mooted. This is of a piece with the City Fathers' unhappy thought that they could build the Riachuelo Docks quite as well as Mr. Woodgate.

The general impression yesterday was that the Oficina de Cambios will be opened officiously this week. Hooray!

Dn Luis Dominguez, Argentine Minister at Rio, has written an important note to Mr Navarro, Chief Commissioner of Immigration, on the attempt to introduce Coolie labour in Brazil. Mr Dominguez says the attempt will fail, as it did in Peru.

Two more approaching fashionable marriages are announced by our 'high life' colleagues—Mr Francisco Passman to Miss Dolores Celina Gandara, and Mr Eduardo Massot to Miss Lucia Gaudencio.

The abuse of throwing dirty water and refuse of all kinds into the sumpts and 'cloacas' has now reached such a pitch that Mr Nystromer, Mr Bateman's agent, declares that, for the safety of the drains and the public health, the sumpts must be closed up till the Drainage Works are completed. Mister N., in his note to Dr Wilde, President of the Water Board, says that the worst of all the offenders in this way are the policemen (Bomberos) quartered in Plaza Lorea! Here's a nice kettle of 'pescado!' The police the worst breakers of the law!! 'O tempora, o mores!' Oh everything.

National Bank Shares..	104¼

There was much of a calm in the market today; gold rules almost at par, Cedulas less pushed on the market, and Bank Shares scarce for cash, but offered on time. The whole attention of the market is divided between land purchases and Nat. Bank Shares; it is really difficult to say in which there is most doing. We for our part never remember a period when there was so much doing in estancia lands as at present; lands in the most distant parts are selling, and lands in the Upper Provinces are now more freely than ever offered.

The gold market at the opening of the Bolsa looked as if going to par, several brokers had gold to sell, but all asked 25.10; one or two buyers had orders, but they were limited to 25.05, which with the commission b ought out the gold at 25.08; as the day, however, wore on, the few lots gold that had to be bought were done at 25.10, and the market closed at 2 o'clock with gold over at that rate. Many of the leading brokers expect to see gold at par next week when the French pocket exchange is sold, and if the Provincial Bank does not publish notice that it will give pap r for gold, then paper money before December, if the wools come in strong, will sell at a premium. Owing to the illness of Dn Carlos Casares, President of the Bank, this measure stands over for next week, but it is quite evident that the free exchange of paper for gold will be the next move.

It was very freely said on Change to-day that the great Italian Bank share firm had renewed to-day their vencimiento for a very large loan they had made on the stock; the market, however, reflected no improvement on this news, since many of the wise Italian brokers said the firm in question took up the money not to buy back the stock, but rather to keep others from getting the money, and thus interfering with their speculation; still we think we note a hardening tendency in the share market; many brokers had orders from outs de s to buy the stock cash at 105, but it could not be got at the figure, and the Italian King openly bought at the ring to-day for cash and on time, they say to throw the market on its back on Monday; the game playing is tremendous.

The total gold sold during business hours was 145,000 pats, but at 3 o'clock they were trying to sell gold at 25.07.

In Cedulas but a small business done, only 5,000 Series A at 98½, which is better than yesterday, and 10,000 Series E at 97 for end of December.

National Bank Shares are completely ruled by the Italians, but it was marked by a white hat party that the sales cash are stopped, only 400 sold, and for end of month 12,080 dodging about all day at 104½-105. Price for December stronger, and stock looked for at 107.

Exchange offered at 50d, but hard to find; takers for all offered; the brokers look for an advance for the French mail, such is the large amount of francs offering.

At the close of the ring to-day an auction was called of 7 Lanus Deposit Shares, representing 24,500 pats. There was not much interest in the stock, although we for one believe it cheap at par; bidding opened at 60 and rose quietly to 64, when the shares were knocked down to M Buun. Three months ago we considered this stock worth 80.

The Captain of the Vanguard it appears was right in declining Chevalier Hairby's offer of help, since he entered with his steamer last night Montevideo, and thus saved his owners pretty heavy salvage.

The sales at the ring were—

For cash 35,000 25.10
For Nov. 30th 60,000 25.10
For Dec. 31st 50,000 25.10
Sales, 145,000.

Cedulas—

For cash A 5,000 98½
For Dec. 31st E 10,000 79
Sales, 15,000.

Nat. Bank Shares—

For cash 400 shares at 104½
For Nov. 30th 12,080 shares 104-½-105 to 105-½-105 104½
For Dec. 31st 1,700 shares 107-106½-½-107
Sales, 13,180.

The payments on Change to-day were pretty heavy and estimated at 20 millions currency. Gold was offered at 4 o'clock by a French broker at 25.07, but could not be sold; finally it was sold at 25.05, 6,000 pats.

It was rumoured on Change that telegrams had come from London to-day announcing bad political news from Ireland; Mr Forster, Chief Secretary of Ireland, shot, and attempts made on the life of Sir W Harcourt, and a conspiracy to murder Mr Gladstone. We await our Havas telegram to see if there is any confirmation of this truly terrible news. Up to the closing hour of the Bolsa we could get nothing.

3,000 American hides sold in Montevideo at 74, 2,000 becerros at 71, and 1,600 ar. wool at 33.

The sale of 1,000 Banda Oriental cows, two years and upwards, calves free, at 280 m|c is reported; this is a most important sale and shows that the price of horned cattle has dropped. We hear that more cattle offering at same price.

Exchange on Montevideo at ½ premium passed to-day.

Mr Ledesma, who has come from the colonies, was welcomed; he says the wheat and linc crops look splendid, and the colonists all in the best humour. The harvest begins on 30th.

At 4 o'clock there was rather an unpleasant pow-wow at the Bolsa doors, caused by Sr Funes, insisting upon entering the hall although not a member. Mr Becar very properly showed him out, but this led to a small boxing match which resulted in the intruder being turned into the street.

Letters received by the mail announce the probability of the starting of a new German bank, by German capitalists who think of investing in the Plate.

The Bolsa was crowded to-day with Nürnberg passengers, old friends we were all delighted to see back again in the R. Plate; we give the list lower down. The Nürnberg is a musical ship, band on board playing all the way out. No wonder the passengers looked to-day in such remarkable humour. We hear that the German Lloyd steamers to the United States always carry a band and play for the passengers all the way out.

Another National land sale, 6 square leagues Nos. 583 to 584, sold for 45,000 m|c per league between Trenquelequen and Guamini; seller Bustamante, buyer Mr Gimenez.

Gold at afterhours sold at 25.05. Shares hardened, outsiders taking all offered cash, prices advanced to 105 for end of month, and closed there, also 107 for December.

In Cedulas nothing done.

Mr Beckhaus, one of our leading barraqueros who as arrived from Europe, and Mr Luis Oestrrieth from Köln were both welcomed and enveloped in friends.

On Monday at 3 o'clock the first meeting of the special commission for new Bolsa holds its session.

Mr E W May of Rio, superintendent of Royal Mail is expected here in Trent on Tuesday, morning. Mr. Thomas Drysdale and Mr. Gibson are also expected to arrive that morning.

Messrs Duggan sold:

The indemnity bill did not pass through the Deputies with the celerity many looked for, and as the Senate has altered the law as passed by the lower house in some of its respects, it now goes before the Committee of the Deputies to be reported on. Yet the market conviction is that the measure will pass and without much further delay; whatever effect it can have on the stock has been already to the fullest measure discounted, and National Bank Shares will not be moved by the measure. The market is fairly enveloped in shares, and until a new combination is formed that can take off the market say 30,000 shares, we cannot look for a return of previous prices. What seems probable is that the stock, instead of being as at present in the hands of a few, will be spread over many; outsiders at present rates, who have disposable money, will probably invest in the stock, and thus the shares will defend themselves.

Mr Warner, of Rojas, was welcomed; he reports the camps splendid up there, but wanting more stock; sheep and cattle very fat, and new poblaciones going up.

We recommend to those looking for cattle to stock new lands to see the Banda Oriental cattle at Campana now offering for sale; the animals are sound and good, and the price asked for picked cows is not dear.

We have received the following for publication:—

Santiago del Estero, Nov. 14th, 1881

To the Editor of the Standard,

Dear Sir,

Your talented Rosario Correspondent W P in your issue of the 6th inst. translates an article on the Chaco Aerolite, which contains so many misstatements as to render it—somewhat unreliable.

The Santiago Government has no intention of organising any expedition; it will simply assist any private one that may be undertaken. Of these there seem to be two or three on foot, one of which has been organised in your city by Dr Don Angel J Carranza. This last is to start about the beginning of Feeruary, that is, I suppose, if the aerolite is not discovered by some parties who are at this moment in the Chaco looking it up.

Is it not curious that the writer of the article, who pretends that the meteor is not lost, and appears to be quite familiar with the locality where it is situated, has not claimed the rewards offered by Congress and this Government?

"Leaving Guaype, on the frontiers of Santiago and the Chaco, an old road made by the Indians in the direcion N.N.E. is taken, on which are the remains of old wells now filled up". I am inclined to think that whoever follows these directions will eventually be found fooling around the North pole, without ever having been within 50 leagues of the Aerolite—assuming, of course, that it is not a rolling stone, and that it is at present "where it used to was".

The stone (by the by, it is not a stone, and never was) is said to be "between 60° and 64° W. Longitude and 27° and 28° S. Latitude".

Would it not be easier to find a needle in a haystack than a small meteor in a tract of land over 12,000 square geographical miles?

Last century the Spanish Government sent Ruben de Celis to report on the mass of Iron in question, and on the reported mineral wealth of the Chaco. He brought samples of the Aerolite, and states that it is situated on an immense plain, and that within a radius of 100 leagues there is not even a small hill. He reports that there is a spring of poisonous water about two leagues towards the North. He did not find any gold or silver, and considers it unlikely that there should be any. Now what object could Ruben de Celis have in concealing the existence of "other stones, streams of water, lakes, mountainous lands in which are exceeding rich gold washings", as asserted by the writer in question?

There are unquestionably traditions to the effect that the Aerolite is a mass of solid silver, that there are in the vicinity large nuggets of pure gold, &c., but does not all this seem too good to be true? Is not Ruben de Celis, who went specially to investigate the matter more likely to be right?

Whenever the Aerolite is found its only value will be as a scientific curiosity, and the finder will be entitled to award, for if he has nothing more than the gold and silver he may find, he ought surely to inherit the earth.

Yours truly,

J. C.

Sir,

Were you not playing the piano at 5 o'clock this morning? A lady asks me, I was not. 'Then it must be that nasty singing in my ears coming on again; please send me some more of that stuff,' etc, etc. I feel the case to be more interesting from a medical than a musical point of view. A gentleman on board knows somebody who has recently purchased a hundred guinea microscope, so long, so high, so many lenses, and fifty horse power. 'Do you go on like this when you are ashore?' he demanded, standing with his legs wide apart and hands deep in his trowser pockets, looking over my shoulder as I essayed a firework of Gottschalk's. Sometimes I said. 'Why, I should think, then you must know every note on the piano by this time!' I admitted I thought I could spot most of them. Sound practical advice tendered to me, relative to withdrawing from certain proposed experiments in Rio de Janeiro. 'Better look a coward for five minutes than look a corpse for ever more!' An unfortunate stewart, sent back by the homeward mail from St. Vincent as utterly useless, being subject to epilepsy, and prone to liquid restoration of the inner man, is reported on his transfer paper as 'incompetent for duty; has fits, and otherwise misconducts himself.' Third class passengers delight to congregate in their myriads around the deck-cabins of the officers, much to annoyance of those superior tars, spending the whole twenty-four hours lying about the doorways, with the exception of meal-times when they may be dimly descried in an abyss known as the lowerdeck, feeding carnivorously and growling at the victuals. They are quite unreserved in their habits and very affable, and their children drop in (over the doorstep) without any ceremony whatever. The chief officer greatly harassed in this way, being sorely in need of his afternoon nap and finding it impossible to obtain it with a closed door one burning hot day, sends for a big mastiff which is going out on freight to Montevideo, and has it tied outside his cabin. But he forgot that the dog has been kept chained up on deck all the way, and that every third class passenger knows and loves him like a brother; so that the animal's advantageous position was no sooner known than every single acquaintance in the ship hurried up to greet him and play with him, fighting and struggling to get near and have a share of him, and sleep was murdered more effectually than ever. Furthermore, when the dinner-bell rang, the faithful hound, not knowing that officer, would not allow him to pass out of his cabin, and he had to remain there ignominiously imprisoned until the butcher arrived on the scene and led him (the dog, not the chief officer) away by the ear.

When a man becomes abstracted and pre-occupied in demeanor, wholly inattentive to the exigencies of ordinary conversation, wanders restlessly about alone with quick jerky steps, eyes bent to the ground and brows knit anxiously, mutters to himself, and suffers from fits of despondency alternating with obscure paroxysms of joy, he may be regarded as a certain victim to the premonitory symptoms of that peculiar form of mental aberration known as Private Theatricals. This insidious disease affects the fair sex in a different manner; they thrust a written 'part' upon you, put their hands behind their backs, and say, 'Hear me!' A gentleman on board, being seized with this distressing malady, communicated it to two ladies, from whom it spread with frightful rapidity to several others; the wretched originator of the outbreak then took unto himself a stage-manager, and the last state of that man was worse than the first. It is a delicious comedy of errors to stand aside and watch the quarrels, bickerings, backbiting, dissatisfaction, jealousies and all the hopes and fears which beset the progress of 'getting up' a play. Amateurs rush in where actors fear to tread, as a rule, and nothing less than Shakespeare, Colman, Sheridan or comic opera satisfies them in these days; our 'corps diplomatique,' however, was more modest, and contented itself with selecting Charles Matthews' farce, 'Little Toddlekins' for representation. How on earth the representation ever took place at all is the wonder! They talk in the 'coulisses' of a piece as 'starved', if less than thirty or forty rehearsals are allowed, not including business practices; why, we had literally no rehearsals at all (I say 'we', as one of the family, but I didn't act—no, I think not). The whole thing was given up after the first reading, on account of the 'prima donna's' toothache, and was considered to have fallen to the ground; I know of one thankful heart that welled up with gratitude when that decision was arrived at, but it found no vent in speech. Lo and behold! on the evening before we reached Pernambuco, everybody concerned suffered a relapse, and it was determined at dinner that the thing should be carried out to the bitter end that very night! Remonstrance was useless; tears and prayers would have been unavailing; so, while some attempt was made to fit the parts [which had fortunately all been written out] together, and much ingenuity displayed in pasting them on newspapers, inside hats and other properties, the fore saloon once more broke out into flags and lanterns, and the prompter—who was also orchestra and call-boy—became visibly grayer. I can honestly say, though, speaking from two years' bitter experience of the real thing, that I never saw anything go off better with so little preparation. If everyone was not quite 'text-perfect,' he or she gagged pluckily and to the point, and carried the part with so much swing and 'verve' that it went without a single hitch; and the spectators testified their delighted surprise by a wholly unconventional tumult of applause.

Applause well-earned and well-deserved, let me add; so that the remark I am about to append may not seem ungracious, or intended to apply in this instance. How is it that an English audience of the better class never judges a play for itself, but invariably accept without hesitation the verdict of the press? Produce the vilest rubbish in any West End theatre in London, and a crowded house will sit it out from beginning to end without a murmur, much less a hiss; nay, if the inferior parts of the house are judiciously prepared (for the 'claque' is an institution quite as well recognized if not as well known at home as abroad), author, actors, manager, scene-painter and all concerned may arrange an ovation for themselves confortably beforehand. There is no dissension in a British audience about applause—if one claps his hands at the right moment, all will follow suit. John Bull, it is true, grumbles as he puts on his hat and goes home after it is over, and determines not to go again, but he will not persuade others to stay away if the newspapers report favourably next morning; far more probably, indeed, he may be over-persuaded himself. Fortunately, perhaps, most of our dramatic critics are themselves playwrights, and the public gain a wholesome opinion by a certain inevitable spirit of rivalry which exists. In spite of popular ideas to the contrary, the honesty of the press is not commonly amarketable article; and he must be a very young aspirant to fame in any branch, now-a-days, who would imagine that a champagne supper is likely to influence the tone of to-morrow's critique, according to tradition.

(To be concluded.)

The Patagonia's Mails

STATE OF IRELAND.

A shocking murder was committed last night at Rathcloony, within a mile of Spancel Hill, county Clare. A respectable farmer, named Michael Molony, was sitting in his parlour after supper between 7 and 8 o'clock, when two shots were fired through the window. He received both in the breast and neck and expired in a few minutes. His wife had a narrow escape. She had just closed the shutters and turned away from the window when the shots were fired, and some slugs passed across her face. Molony's son, who was in bed in an adjoining room, on hearing the shots ran out, and found his father prostrate on the floor. Molony has a son a priest, and another in the Civil Service in London. Different motives for the murder have been assigned. Some say that it was because he paid his rent on Wednesday last, but this is inconsistent with the resolution of the Cloony branch of the Land League to the effect that they would not interfere in cases where the rent was below Griffith's valuation. Molony held under the Hon. Stafford O'Brien a farm for which he paid only £12 a year, while Griffith's valuation is £20. Others attribute it to family feuds and disputes with neighbours, whom he summoned and had fined for breaking his fences.

On Friday evening 4 shots were fired close to the house of Mr Bentley, J.P, of Hurlston, near Broadford, county Clare. A Snider bullet passed into Mr Bentley's bedroom, breaking the sash of the window, and a Snider cleaning-rod was found in a field near the garden. The reason given for the outrage is that he refused last week to support a motion at a meeting of the Board of Guardians censuring the Government for the arrests. He had been previously popular, and his name had been received with cheers at a Land League meeting.

The dwelling-house of James Lynch, of Ballyhorn, near Gort, was maliciously burned down on Thursday night. He was awakened by the flames and escaped with his family. Some weeks ago his hay was destroyed, and since then police have patrolled in the neighbourhood, and a party of them came up on seeing the fire, and with the assistance of neighbours, helped to save his furniture. The hostility to Lynch is owing to his having taken a Boycotted farm.

Mr J B Walsh, Castlebar, and Mr George Simpson, Mount Nicholas, Kerry, were released from Kilmainham Goal yesterday. The health of both suspects is impaired.

The Limerick Land League attempted to hold their weekly meeting yesterday, but Mr M'Carthy, R. M., with a body of police, entered the room and dispersed the assembly.

The window breaking in Dublin last week by the mob has been a costly amusement at the expense of the citizens. Claims for compensation to the amount of £3,000 were lodged yesterday evening with the town clerk, among them one for £700 by Mr. O'Connor, the owner of several public-houses. In his case the mob were ungrateful, for he voted in the Corporation for a resolution calling upon the Government to withdraw the police force.

An attempt was made at an early hour on Thursday morning to blow up the residence of Mr A Weir, of Ballindrate, county Donegal, by dynamite. An earthenware jar full of blasting powder and containing five dynamite cartridges loose and three attached to fuses had been hurled through one of the windows into a parlour, where it was found on Thursday morning, fortunately, unexploded. It is believed that the fuse, which was partly burnt, was extinguished in passing through the window.

A large force of police and military assembled in Ballina to-day to prevent the holding of four Land League meetings which had been proclaimed. At Corimbla the people attempted to hold the meeting and moved from one hill to another, followed by the police. They succeeded in one place in getting a large hogshead, on which they put a chair, and went through the form of holding the meeting. On the appearance of the police, the crowd moved to another hill and watched the police smashing the barrel to pieces. They then returned to Ballina, cheering on the way for the chase they had given the police. None of the other meetings were attempted to be held. The placards calling them were of a very inflammatory character.

A man named John Molony was walking in the streets of Limerick on Friday night with a woman, when he was suddenly shot, and died shortly afterwards. Mr. John Smith Pearson, a commercial traveller from Cork, fired the shot as he alleges in self-defense. At the inquest held yesterday the jury found that Molony died from the shot fired at him by Pearson, but whether the said shot was inflicted in self-defence or not they could not say.

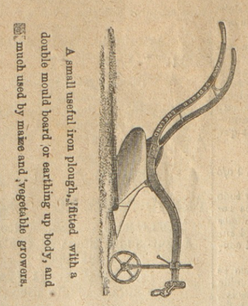
HOWARD'S CELEBRATED PLOUGHS

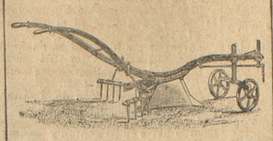
Howard's
Small Ridging Plough



A small useful iron plough, fitted with a double mould board or earthing up body, and much used by maize and vegetable growers.

Weight ¼ cwt.

Howard's
Water-Furrow Plough



This is a modification of J. & F. Howard's Ridging Plough. It is used for making the water furrows for surface drainage on arable land; the peculiarity of its working is that the earth thrown up on each side of the furrow by the mould boards, is moved away from the edges of the furrow and is harrowed down level with the field, a level surface is thus left for the Reaping Machine, and drainage is facilitated.

With steel breasts, weight 1¼ cwt.

Howard's
Potato Ploughs.

With a pair of horses, this implement will raise three to four acres of potatoes in a day; it leaves fewer in the ground than hand digging, and the roots are raised with less bruising or scratching of the skins than by any other method. These Ploughs have stood the test of many years experience, and the demand grows larger annually.

Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne

(Ex Army Medical Staff)

IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

—o—

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr. J Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue, which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent hospital physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's.—See Times, July 13th 1864.

The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than

Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne.

REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates healthy action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it at all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvelous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensively.

CHLORODYNE is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation and Spasms.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, Jan. 5th 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London. "Dear Sir, we embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the wide-spread reputation this justly-esteemed medicine, DR. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of DR. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's, from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a "deliberate breach of faith on the part of the chemist to prescriber and patient alike." We are, sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists."

Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera—"So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all cases."

CAUTION—None genuine without the words 'Dr J Collis Browne' on the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.
